EDUCATIONAL & PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Jennifer graduated cum laude from Wellesley in 1999 with a degree in Neuroscience. After working on Alzheimer's research projects, Jennifer attended the University of Colorado School of Law where she was an Associate Editor of the University of Colorado Law Review. She graduated law school in 2006.

Jennifer then enjoyed diverse work experiences including clerking for the Honorable Arthur P. Roy at the Colorado Court of Appeals and practicing bad faith insurance defense in Colorado. She then moved to Alaska, where she spent seven years providing representation to clients throughout the state.

Jennifer is highly experienced in providing straightforward advice in complicated and ambiguous situations. An accomplished litigator, she has thousands of hours in trial and appellate courts. When not in the office or in court, Jennifer can often be found hiking in the Northwest or picnicking on Washington State Ferries.
