EDUCATIONAL & PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Shreya received her undergraduate degree in Honors English and Political Science from the University of Washington in 2016. She received her J.D. from Seattle University School of Law in 2019 where she was the managing editor of the Environmental Journal and an Outstanding Service Awardee for the completion of over 300 hours of pro bono work. She attended Seattle University as a Washington State Scholar and was also a member of the Women’s Law Caucus and International Refugee Assistance Project. During law school she completed internships with the ACLU, Northwest Justice Project, and Fred T. Korematsu Center. Before joining Sebris Busto James (and returning to the Northwest), Shreya spent time working as a litigation associate at a firm in California.
